Destination

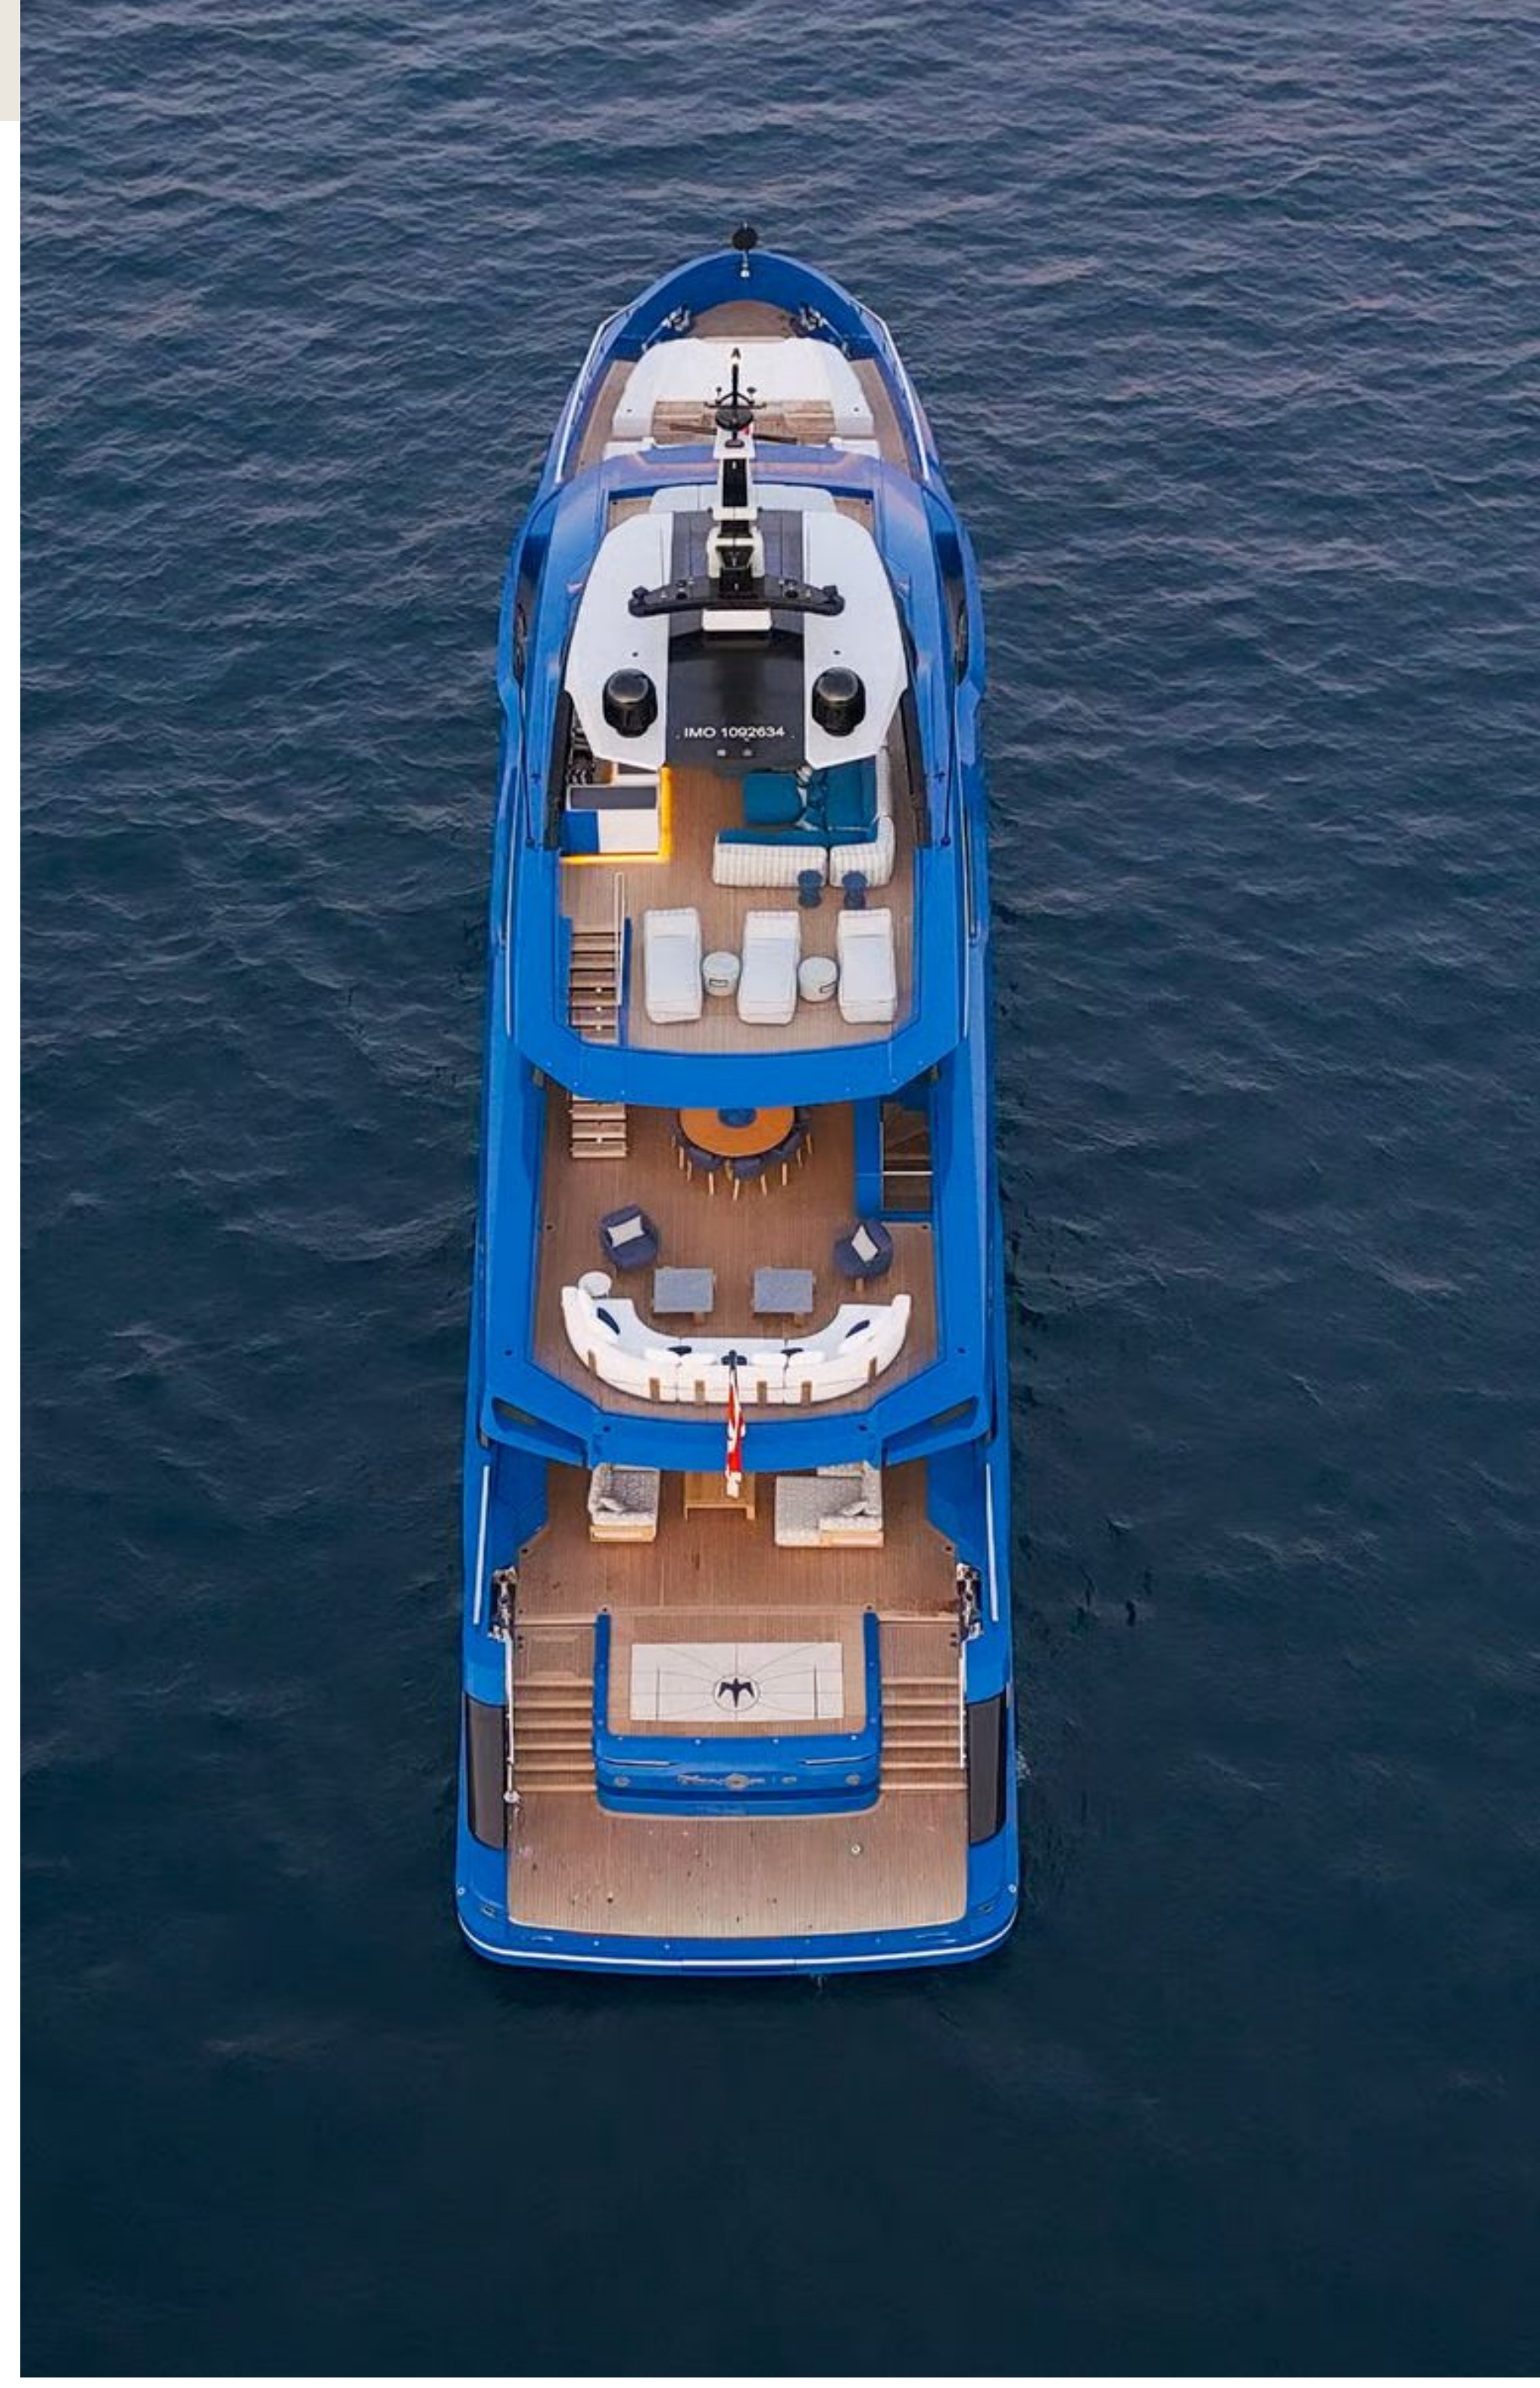

Corsica & Sardinia

When it comes to sailing, Corsica and Sardinia offer a variety of options. Corsica has several marinas, as well as sheltered bays and coves. Sailing around Corsica is an experience in itself, with its rugged coastline and beautiful beaches. The charming port of Bastia is a popular stop for yachts, and the island of Elba is a great spot for sailing and exploring the local culture. Sardinia is a bit more luxurious, with its many exclusive resorts and marinas. It's the perfect destination for those looking for a more luxurious yachting experience. The Costa Smeralda, located on the northeast coast of Sardinia, is a favourite spot for yachts, with its stunning views and sheltered inlets.
